

2017–
2018

Substance Use Treatment in CANADA*

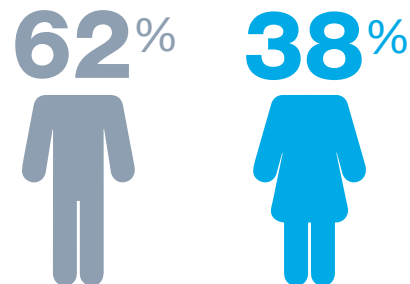

1 in 206

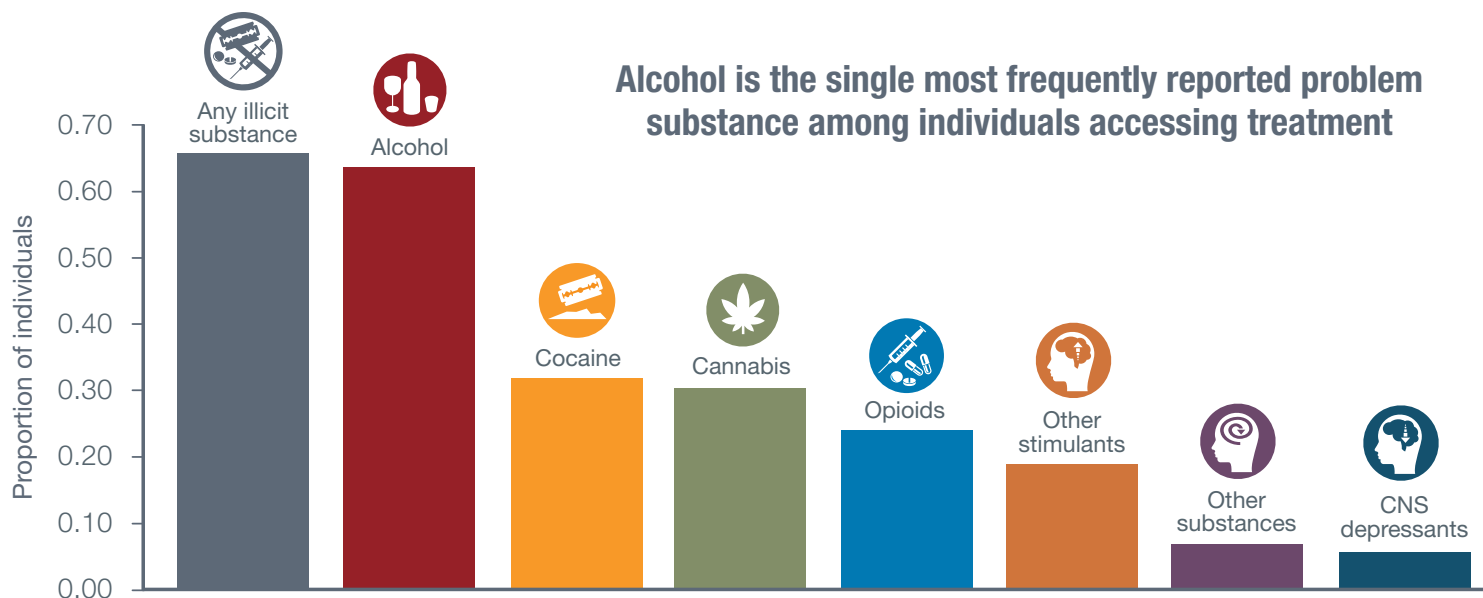

Canadians were in treatment for substance use*

Excludes hospital-based, physician-based services.
Some jurisdictions do not capture data from all specialized, community-based services.

More males than females are accessing treatment

Additional information reflecting gender identity is not collected across all jurisdictions and is not reported here.

An individual can report more than one problem substance.

*Data captures 60% of Canadian population in total as estimates do not include Yukon, B.C., Manitoba and Quebec (data not available)