

Cannabis Webinar Series: Emerging Research and Implications Day 2 Agenda

October 12, 2021
12:00–1:30 p.m. (EDT)

Clinical and Mental Health Implications, Part I

Since legalization, cannabis consumption trends continue to inform our understanding of the associated health and mental health risks of cannabis use. This webinar features research aiming to fill knowledge gaps about clinical populations treated for substance use disorders, cannabis use disorder and psychosis. The webinar will also explore new evidence on the different ways to use cannabis and how sex and gender influence substance use.
